

March 27, 2017

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY AWARDED AT NATIONAL DENTAL CONFERENCES

Faculty and students at the University of Utah School of Dentistry received several awards and recognition at the 2017 International Association for Dental Research/American Association for Dental Research (IADR/AADR) General Session & Exhibition, held March 22-24, 2017.

Awards won by School of Dentistry faculty:

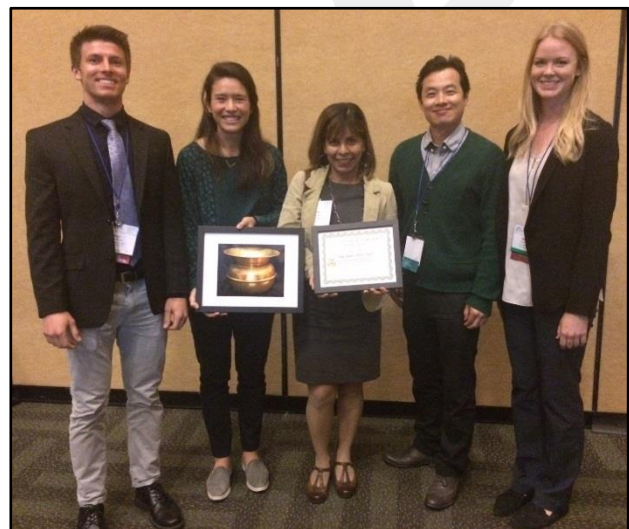

- Dr. Rena D'Souza is the recipient of the 2017 Irwin D. Mandel Distinguished Mentoring Award (Dr. D'Souza is an AADR past president and the current IADR president-elect)
- Dr. Olga Baker was named the 2017 Salivary Researcher of the Year for IADR
- At the 2017 American Dental Education Association (ADEA) Annual Session & Exhibition, held the same week as IADR/AADR, Dr. James Winkler was recognized for leadership and dedicated service as Councilor of the ADEA Section on Graduate and Postgraduate Education.

Awards won by School of Dentistry students:

- Second-year dental student Chris Fanelli received the 2017 Craniofacial Biology Group Award – junior category (IADR)
- The University of Utah School of Dentistry was recognized for having the highest percentage of new AADR student members relative to total 2016 dental school enrollment

Student Chris Fanelli

Dr. Olga Baker (center)